Short Description

The E-Invoicing Exchange Summit will be held in Singapore on November 5 and 6, 2019. Participants at this global platform benefit from an in-depth learning and networking experience while getting proven best practices and tested solutions to the toughest challenges in E-Invoicing.

The programme covers a wide range of relevant topics: New E-Invoicing mandates, real-time tax reporting, global E-Invoicing trends, impact of Artificial Intelligence and Blockchain, importance of clearance models and more. One of many highlights will be the keynote by Tan Kiat How, Chief Executive of IMDA, on the role of E-Invoicing in Singapore's digital economy strategy and on the implications of Singapore being the first national PEPPOL authority outside Europe. Another highlight will be the analyst keynote by Bruno Koch, an independent and international E-Invoicing consultant and market analyst, who will present the key findings of his high-valued market report The E-Invoicing Journey 2019-2025.
